Remarriage affects a retiree's Survivor Benefit Plan coverage

by Susie Hughes

Survivor Benefit Plan program manager

There are several options available to a retiree participating in the Survivor Benefit Plan with spouse or spouse and child coverage when the spouse is lost through death, divorce, or annulment, and the retiree later remarries.

Unless former-spouse coverage is elected as part of a divorce, retirees who remarry have three choices. They can:

- ◆ Resume the prior level of spouse coverage.
- ◆ Elect not to resume spouse SBP coverage. This election will not affect existing child coverage, if any. This election is irrevocable.
- ◆ If the original election was for reduced coverage, the retiree may request that the base amount be increased up to and including full retired pay. If this option is elected, the retiree must pay the Defense Finance and Accounting Service Cleveland the difference between the SBP cost previously paid and the costs, with interest, which would have been paid if the higher level of coverage had originally been elected. This additional payment must be completed before the first anniversary of marriage.

If payment is not completed before the first anniversary of marriage, the election is null and void, and spouse coverage will be resumed at the previous level. If partial payment has been made on the amount due for increased coverage, a refund of the partial payment will be made.

Retirees must notify DFAS of their desired election within one year of the new marriage or the first option listed above automatically takes effect the date the new spouse becomes an eligible beneficiary. DFAS should be promptly notified of the remarriage to avoid a large debt for unpaid premiums.

Additional rules apply, such as:

- ◆ The member may not add child coverage by virtue of the remarriage alone if child coverage was previously bypassed.
- ◆ Child coverage may not be eliminated based upon a remarriage.
- ◆ The level of coverage may not be reduced upon remarriage.

A retiree married at retirement who declines SBP spouse coverage cannot later enroll in the plan for that spouse or any future spouse unless during a congressionally approved open enrollment period. Normally, penalties and extra charges are assessed during these periods.

A new spouse becomes an eligible beneficiary on the first anniversary of marriage or the birth of a child of the marriage, if earlier. As an exception, a spouse divorced from a retiree who later remarries that retiree becomes an eligible beneficiary immediately upon remarriage if the member:

AAFES is recruiting veterans for downrange positions

DALLAS – The Army & Air Force Exchange Service is recruiting veterans to bring a taste of home to warfighters downrange.

The 123-year-old Department of Defense retailer is seeking veterans to deploy to fill various positions wherever the Exchange operates within Southwest Asia and Eastern Europe.

“When the Exchange hires veterans for downrange assignments, these former service members draw on the same strong work ethic, commitment and loyalty they used to serve our country,” said Air Force Chief Master Sgt. Luis Reyes, the Exchange’s senior enlisted adviser. “Many already have served downrange and now they are able to give back, supporting troops on the front line.”

No matter where America’s troops go, the Exchange goes with them. The Exchange operates 41 direct-run stores on 32 installations in eight Middle East countries, including Iraq, Afghanistan, Kuwait, Qatar, Jordan, Saudi Arabia and Egypt, as well as on installations in Europe, such as Bosnia, Kosovo, Romania, Poland and Bulgaria.

This program supports the Exchange’s commitment to hire 50,000 veterans and military spouses by 2020. Veterans can look for jobs at ApplyMyExchange.com. Many veterans already have the favorable security clearance needed to work downrange, which can save three to 15 months in conducting necessary background checks.

Deployments with the Exchange range from six months to a year, with an option to extend up to two years. After their deployments, veterans are eligible to apply for other jobs with the Exchange.

Leroy Elliott, a Vietnam War and Desert Storm veteran, has been the Exchange’s services business manager in Kuwait since August. Elliott served in the Marines and Army for 22 years. He also worked for the Exchange from 1993 to 2009.

“The work is challenging and the days are long,” Elliott said. “It’s all worth it when we can bring a little bit of home to the men and women who are putting themselves in harm’s way and serving our country.” (Courtesy of AAFES News Service)

◆ Retired before Sept. 21 1972 and elected coverage for that spouse during the initial enrollment period for retirees.

Simply getting your new spouse an ID card issued through updates in Defense Enrollment Eligibility Reporting System, or DEERS, does not update your pay records with DFAS. When you obtain an ID card for your new spouse, it provides entitlements such as TRICARE coverage, Exchange and commissary use, and morale, welfare and recreation privileges. DEERS and DFAS systems are not linked and require separate actions.

DFAS, the organization that manages your retirement pay is where you can check arrears of pay designation and SBP election. This information is also available on your Retiree Account Statement, and on your MyPay account. Both will reflect the SBP category of coverage and the beneficiaries date of birth. It is every retiree’s responsibility to ensure their pay records are accurate and updated.

Ensuring your records are accurate will ensure a survivor does not encounter delays, confusion and possibly denial of SBP.

For more information, contact DFAS at 800-321-1080 or contact your local SBP counselor by dialing 1-877-353-6807 and enter your ZIP code. The call will be automatically transferred to the SBP counselor assigned to your specific geographical area.

‘Next Generation’ ID cards for retirees coming soon

WASHINGTON -- The Department of Defense is updating its current paper-based uniformed services identification card issued to retired service members, family members and other eligible populations.

The “Next Generation” USID card will incorporate an updated design and security features to deter counterfeiting and fraud, and will be printed on a plastic cardstock.

DOD is transforming the way service members and their families are supported through modernized ID cards and improved mechanisms to protect cardholder privacy and personal information. The Next Generation USID card will incorporate a modified barcode which supports the last phase of the department’s elimination of the Social Security number from all DOD identification cards.

Additional information and updates regarding the Next Generation USID card will be available in the coming months on DOD’s website.

Frequently asked questions:

1. What is changing on the USID card, and why? The Next Generation ID card transitions the current USID card to plastic cardstock with enhanced security features and update topology. These enhanced features enable DOD to reduce the number of card types issued to eligible individuals from 10 to three. The Next Generation USID card does not change the populations who are eligible to receive the current card.

2. When can I get the Next Generation USID card? Beginning early fall 2019, individuals with expiring ID cards will begin to receive the Next Generation USID card at card issuing facilities as they are equipped with the equipment and supplies necessary to issue the Next Generation USID card. In an effort to conserve resources and limit the impact on ID card issuance facilities, cards will not be reissued solely for the purpose of obtaining the Next Generation USID card. Supreme Court upholds DOD authority to court-martial

WASHINGTON – Earlier this year, the U.S. Supreme Court announced it had denied a petition in the case of Larrabee v. United States, effectively upholding the Department of Defense’s authority to court-martial a retired service member.

Retired Marine Staff Sgt. Steven M. Larrabee was found guilty of sexually assaulting a bartender in November 2015, three months after he was retired. At his general court-martial, Larrabee was sentenced to eight years’ confinement, a reprimand and a dishonorable discharge. His sentence was reduced to 10 months by a pre-trial agreement.

Larrabee had argued that he was not subject to Article 2 of the Uniformed Code of Military Justice, which provides that “[r]etired members of a regular component of the armed forces who are entitled to pay” and “[m]embers of the Fleet Reserve and Fleet Marine Corps Reserve” are subject to the UCMJ -- and to court-martial for offenses prescribed therein. The court confirmed previous rulings that military members on the retired list are not mere pensioners, but are a vital segment of the national defense, and thus are subject to the UCMJ.

Details of the court case are available on the Supreme Court website.

A message to the faithful retirees of the U.S. Air Force

by Bill D'Avanzo
Air Force fundraising chief

The 2019 Air Force Assistance Fund campaign has ended at 79 base locations with $3.079 million raised to benefit the four AFAF affiliated charities.

In addition to that amount, Air Force retirees contributed an outstanding $66K! That's a 47% increase over giving last year at this time when we were at the $45K level from retirees.

Even the end of the base campaigns didn't stop you from giving to support Airmen. By the end of October 2018, retirees had given over $112K to these four worthy charities.

The leadership of your AFAF charities would like to take this opportunity to congratulate YOU, our

Air Force retiree family, and say THANK YOU!

Your contributions will help our fellow Airmen with family emergencies like Airmen at Tyndall Air Force Base in Florida who lost nearly everything last fall when Hurricane Michael struck and the Air Force Assistance Fund charities jumped into action to help assigned Airmen and retirees in the affected area. Contributions also helped Airmen with other immediate needs; educational assistance; and base community programs.

You are helping to provide homes for surviving family members they could not otherwise afford; and you are assisting other surviving family members with one-time financial grants or monthly stipends, ensuring they can stay in their homes with the dignity they deserve.

We are touched and grateful that our organizations were remembered by retirees and their families. Your contributions impact the lives of the Air Force family across the world. We are honored that the AFAF mission to serve our Air Force family is important to you.

So, again, thank you. You may be retired, but you are definitely still playing a most active part in what makes this the greatest Air Force in the world -- Airmen taking care of our own!

Retirement homes now accepting applications

by Christopher Kelly

Armed Forces Retirement Home Public Affairs Office

WASHINGTON – The Armed Forces Retirement Home, which offers affordable independent living to eligible veterans in its Washington and Gulfport, Mississippi, locations, is now accepting applications for immediate residency.

Beginning Jan. 1, 2019 the rate for independent living is 46.7 percent of the resident's gross income or $1,990, whichever is less.

Services include recreational activities and resident daytrips, a full-service library, barber shop, 24/7 security, beauty salon, computer center, mailboxes, ATM, campus exchanges and off-campus shuttle and public transportation.

AFRH is fully accredited by The Joint Commission and the Commission on Continuing Care Retirement Communities. Veterans must be able to live independently upon admission to the AFRH. This means being able to care for personal needs, attend a dining facility for meals, and keep all medical appointments.

For those accepted into independent living, the AFRH also offers higher levels of care – including assisted living, long-term care, and memory support. Eighty-five percent of our residents spent a career in the military, retiring honorably in the enlisted ranks following 20 or more years of service to the nation. Military veterans from each service branch live at the home.

In Washington, AFRH offers residents a scenic, wooded campus just minutes from downtown -- home to museums, monuments, and a host of entertainment, sports and other cultural options. Amenities include a nine-hole golf course and driving range, walking paths, stocked fishing ponds, and modern recreation facilities.

In Gulfport, AFRH offers residents a view of the Gulf of Mexico, with an outdoor swimming pool, walking path to the beach, reflecting pool, art studio and modern media room.

Many veterans choose to live at AFRH for the superior medical, dental and vision care offered, with amenities that include: private rooms with a shower; cable TV; three daily meals prepared by licensed nutritionists in a modern dining facility; a wellness program; a deluxe fitness center; a movie theater; and a bowling center.

Persons are eligible to become AFRH residents who served as members of the armed forces, at least one-half of whose service was not active commissioned service (other than as a warrant officer or limited-duty officer).

The following veterans

(male or female) will be considered:

- 60 years of age or older, and were discharged or released under honorable conditions with 20 or more years of active service; or

- Have a service-connected disability incurred in the line of duty in the armed forces; or

- Served in a war theater during a time of war declared by Congress or were eligible for hostile-fire special pay and are suffering from injuries, disease or disability.

Those who served in a women's component of the armed forces before June 12, 1948 and are determined to be eligible for admission because of compelling personal circumstances will also be considered. Married couples who meet eligibility requirements above are welcome, as are non-military spouses of career-retired applicants. Veterans who have been convicted of a felony or are not free of drug, alcohol or psychiatric problems are ineligible to become a resident.

For further information or to request an application, visit <https://www.afrh.gov/apply>; send email to admissions@afrh.gov; or call 800-422-9988. (Courtesy of AFRH)

Retirees will see military medical changes ahead

by retired Chief Master Sgt. John "Doc" McCauslin
Air Force Retiree Council member-at-large

During the 2019 Air Force Retiree Council meeting, these significant changes affecting military medical facilities and personnel were briefed by Defense Health Agency representatives:

Military Billet Realignment: More than 17,000 uniformed personnel billets will be moved to the line effective Oct. 1 2019, but the individuals in those billets would slowly attrite over the next three years. These changes could significantly affect medical access as physicians, dentists and nurses. Technicians in pharmacy, laboratory, X-ray, and immunizations are among those being shifted away from medical facilities.

TRICARE Pharmacy Copay Increases:

The 2017 National Defense Authorization Act established mail copays at $7 for generics (increased to $24 for brand names). Retail copays were changed to $11 and $28. The new copays began in February 2018.

DOD Formulary:

For a listing of all medications that the Department of Defense routinely carries, research the DHA website. DHA has overall responsibility for all DOD health care issues including staffing, budget and medications. There are some formulary exceptions based upon facility and specialty requirements.

Exchange generates $223 million for quality-of-life programs in 2018

DALLAS – Every time service members, retirees, veterans and military families shop the Army & Air Force Exchange Service, they help make their community stronger. In 2018, Exchange shoppers generated $223 million for vital on-installation community programs.

All Exchange earnings are invested in the military community, with 60% going to dividends supporting quality-of-life programs, and the remaining 40% used to improve the experience in stores and at ShopMyExchange.com.

Over the last 10 years, Exchange shoppers have contributed $2.5 billion to support Army Child Development Centers and fitness centers, Air Force Outdoor Recreation and other programs that strengthen the services' recruiting, retention and readiness efforts.

"Support of critical quality-of-life programs is a tangible return on the benefit service members and their families have earned," said Exchange Director/CEO Tom Shull. "We go where they go to deliver convenience and savings and invest in each community we are honored to serve."

The 2018 $223 million dividend was generated in part by veterans, who were welcomed home with a lifelong online military exchange shopping benefit introduced on Veterans Day 2017. By shopping the Exchange online, veterans make life better for those who wear the uniform today while enjoying exclusive military savings and tax-free shopping. Veterans can visit ShopMyExchange.com/vets to sign up for their lifelong online benefit.

All branches of service benefit from shopping the Exchange. Because the Exchange also serves the Navy and Marine Corps at select stores and online, portions of the dividend are contributed to those branches' quality-of-life programs.

The 2018 dividend was distributed as follows:

Army:	$129 million
Air Force:	$77 million
Marines:	$12 million
Navy:	$5 million

New VA education program targets computer tech skills

Veteran Employment Through Technology Education Courses, or VET TEC, is a new Veterans Affairs tuition and housing assistance program helping veterans advance their information technology career.

Veterans who have at least one day of unexpired GI Bill entitlement may be eligible for VET TEC; however, participation in the program does not count against GI Bill entitlements.

In just weeks, veterans can gain computer skills that can greatly impact their career, according to VA officials. VET TEC pays for classes in one of five areas: information science, computer programming, data processing, media applications and computer software.

This program pairs veterans with market-leading training providers offering the high-tech training and skills development employers seek.

For any questions, contact the VA's education call center at 1-888-442-4551 or e-mail

VETTEC.VBABUF@va.gov.

Veterans can also visit the VET TEC website. (Courtesy of VA News)

Afterburner office does not maintain addresses

Please DO NOT send your U.S. Postal Service change-of-address announcements to the Afterburner office as the editor does not have the ability to make official address changes.

Mailing labels used to send out the Afterburner are based on addresses already on file with the Defense Finance and Accounting Service. Any change announcements sent to the Afterburner cannot be processed or forwarded, and are shredded.

Retirees must change their address by calling 800-321-1080. (Do not mention the Afterburner or you may be referred elsewhere.) If you have a myPay account you can make the change online. You can fax your change to 800-469-6559, or send it to: DFAS, US Military Retirement Pay, 8899 E 56th Street, Indianapolis IN 46249-1200.

Air Force Survivor Benefit Plan annuitants must call DFAS at the number above, or use their online myPay account. The fax number for annuitants is 800-982-8459 or mail the change to: DFAS, US Military Annuitant Pay, 8899 E 56th Street, Indianapolis IN 46249-1300.

Q: I need to submit a DD Form 149 application to correct my personnel records. Where do I send it?

A: Air Force veterans who need to have an error corrected or an injustice removed from their military records should complete a DD Form 149, Application for Correction of Military Record. The form instructions advise mailing the package to the address on the back of the form, but the DD Form 149 is currently going through the Office of the Secretary of Defense for an address change.

The intake office on the back of the form has relocated from Joint Base San Antonio-Randolph, Texas, to Joint Base Andrews, Maryland.

To ensure an application is received and processed in a timely manner, mail the DD Form 149 to: SAF/MRBC (AFBCMR), 3351 Celmers Lane, Joint Base Andrews NAF, Washington, MD 20762-6435, along with any source documents, or send the package by email to usaf.pentagon.saf-mr.mbx.saf-mrbc@mail.mil.

Applicants must first exhaust available administrative avenues of relief before applying to the board of corrections. Visit the Military Personnel Records website and scroll down to the "RECORDS CORRECTION" tab for more information.

Q: I'm a retired Air Force aviator who would like to mentor the next generation. What can I do?

A: Retired aviators who wish to inspire the next generation by promoting air and space power can do so by becoming a member of the Order of Daedalians.

The Daedalians foster scholarship and flying training programs for aspiring aviators. It sponsors awards for exceptional active-duty aviators; achievements in safety, education and training; service; weapon systems; advocacy; and recognition for Junior ROTC cadets.

Commissioned officers who served as pilots, navigators, combat/weapon systems officers, air battle managers, RPA pilots, flight surgeons or astronauts are eligible to join. Learn more by visiting the Daedalians website.

Air Force Retiree Activities Offices

Retiree Activities Offices are made up of retired volunteers from all services, including surviving spouses. Their charter is to coordinate, establish and staff an office on an active-duty, Reserve or Guard base through command channels that will assist retirees and surviving spouses with myriad actions.

These actions include: serving as an information center for TRICARE, base services, etc.; offering referrals for financial assistance and pay matters; counseling active-duty Airmen nearing retirement; and providing guidance on retirement issues.

Another major activity involves working with base agencies to set up Retiree Appreciation Day events offering briefings by different agencies on respective services, tax preparation and advice (at selected locations); staff judge advocate assistance, base tours, Defense Finance and Accounting Service, etc.

Not all states or countries have an established Air Force RAO. The phone numbers and email addresses of RAOs Air Force-wide are listed below.

How the Afterburner is delivered

People with an online myPay account automatically receive an Afterburner via email at the address on file with the Defense Finance and Accounting Service.

Others who wish to subscribe electronically need only navigate to the Air Force Retiree Services website, scroll to the lower right-hand corner, and enter their email address in the box under “Join our Mailing List.” Next, click “Submit” and a second screen will pop-up giving users an option for email service by selecting “AFTERBURNER—Retiree News Service” from the list of subscription topics.

Remember, people who do not have a myPay account or subscribe electronically will receive a hard-copy Afterburner at the mailing address on file with DFAS. (The Afterburner office does not maintain mailing addresses.)

If you have any questions, send email to afpc.retiree@us.af.mil.
