All 1099-R tax forms now available from DFAS

Retiree and annuitant 1099-Rs for 2020 are now available in myPay. Tax statements for retirees and annuitants who elected delivery by mail were mailed via U.S. Postal Service in January.

All tax statements come from the Defense Finance and Accounting Service, not the Air Force. The Air Force does not have access to retiree or annuitant tax forms or other pay documents.

DFAS officials state receiving a timely tax statement depends on having an active myPay account, or ensuring the mailing address on file is correct. People who have updated their address information with another government agency, such as the Department of Veterans' Affairs or the Defense Enrollment Eligibility Reporting Service need to update information with DFAS and vice-versa.

One advantage of using myPay is that 1099-R tax statements are available much sooner in myPay than through postal mail, according to DFAS officials. In addition, in myPay people can download or print current-year tax statements, as well as prior year 1099-Rs (up to four prior years for retirees and up to two prior years for annuitants).

People who need to set up an online myPay account can download a step-by-step Get Started Guide, or see the how-to video on the DFAS YouTube channel by visiting <https://mypay.dfas.mil/>.

Retirees can get a copy of their 1099-R through the DFAS telephone self-service option. To use telephone self-service:

- Call 800-321-1080
- Select Option "1" for Self-Serve
- Select Option "1" for Retiree
- Select Option "1" to have the 1099-R mailed
- Enter your Social Security number when prompted

The requested 1099-R should be in the mail within 7-10 business days to the address DFAS has on record for you.

DFAS website offers many useful pay tools

By Defense Finance and Accounting Service-Cleveland

The Defense Finance and Accounting Service has a variety of tools to help manage your retired pay or Survivor Benefit Plan annuity pay account without having to call the customer care center.

Most of the DFAS tools are even available on your web browser from your smartphone or tablet.

On DFAS.mil you will find a variety of news, overviews, frequently asked questions, quick links for requesting a tax form or reporting a death, and more. The DFAS retiree newsletter, and the new newsletter for survivors, is also available in both electronic form and in a downloadable, shareable PDF.

There are many other tools on the page including a How Long Does It Take webpage providing typical time frames for processing. The retiree and annuitant Forms webpage provides quick links to download an array of forms.

For retirees, there is a range of information on planning for and managing your military retirement, including overviews and FAQs on: applying for retirement, keeping your contact information up to date, getting tax documents, and understanding the VA Waiver and disability pay. There is also information on what your loved ones need to know after you pass away.

For Survivor Benefit Plan annuitants, there are overviews and FAQs on a variety of topics that include: applying for SBP, keeping your contact information up to date, and getting tax documents, as well as the reporting and eligibility requirements for SBP annuitants. There are also explanatory webpages on Understanding SBP, DIC and SSIA, a news page for the phase-out of the SBP-DIC Offset, and an explanatory page on School Certifications.

DFAS is rolling out new tools to help retirees and annuitants fill out and submit forms easily and correctly. The tools include helpful PDF Form Wizards, how-to checklists, and how-to videos. The Form Wizards “take the form out of the form” by asking a series of questions and filling in your answers in the appropriate areas of the form. The how-to checklists and how-to videos provide quick tips and walk-throughs of the forms to help you fill them out correctly and easily.

Website visitors will also find Frequently Asked Questions featuring questions and answers about your retired or annuitant pay. You can send DFAS information or a request via one of our AskDFAS online forms. Retirees and annuitants can submit a changes of address or get 1099-Rs sent to their mailing address on record or to a one-time, temporary mailing address by submitting the request online on AskDFAS.

The new AskDFAS Online Upload Tools allow some forms and the required documentation to be uploaded and submitted through AskDFAS. More online upload tools are coming in 2021.

There is also a link to myPay, the fastest and most secure way to manage your retired pay or SBP pay account. It offers access to a range of information about pay, and lets you easily update contact information; check SBP coverage; and view and print account statements. Also, when you have an email address in myPay, you can receive important email messages from DFAS about your pay account and information from your branch of service.

Afterburner

News for Department of the Air Force Retired Personnel

The Afterburner is authorized by Dept. of the Air Force Instruction 36-3106. When funding permits, it is printed and mailed twice a year by the Air Force Personnel Center Retiree Services Office. Distribution: Airmen receiving DAF retired pay; unremarried surviving spouses of retirees (automatically if they are entitled to an annuity under Survivor Benefit Plan and/or the Retired Serviceman's Family Protection Plan, or the Reserve Component Survivor Benefit Plan); unremarried non-annuitant surviving spouses of deceased DAF members who were receiving retired pay may receive the Afterburner by requesting it from the address below. The hard-copy Afterburner is not sent to former spouses nor to retirees of other services, or to retirees and survivors overseas. Additional copies are not available. The Afterburner address is:

AFPC/DPFFF
550 C Street West
JBSA Randolph TX 78150-4713

Email address for opting out of receiving the hard copy is afpc.retiree@us.af.mil and the phone number is (210) 565-2126. The Afterburner is available on the Internet at www.retirees.af.mil. PLEASE DO NOT SEND CHANGE-OF-ADDRESS NOTIFICATIONS TO THE AFTERBURNER. Distribution is based on the address on file with the Defense Finance and Accounting Service when creating mailing labels. Contact DFAS at 800-321-1080, or make changes using myPay online.

Some expired IDs valid through June 30

Retiree and certain family member identification cards that expired on or after Jan. 1, 2020, will remain valid until June 30, 2021, according to the Defense Human Resources Activity.

For a listing of ID card issuing sites and appointment information, visit the ID card office online at <https://idco.dmdc.osd.mil/idco/#/>.

Exchange online community Hub continues evolving

DALLAS – The Army & Air Force Exchange Service’s Hub is continually evolving with valuable resources for both the military community and veterans.

Launched in 2018 at ShopMyExchange.com/Community, the Hub is a one-stop source of information for military communities with local installation events, celebrity interviews, military family resources and more.

In the last year, the Hub has seen significant additions to include:

COVID-19 updates from the Exchange’s social media and public affairs channels on cleaning protocols, adjustments to hours as well as a FAQ section.

BE FIT Connect, where Soldiers, Airmen and military families can find information on healthy living to include exercise videos, health tips and links to content on the Exchange’s Facebook page and merchandise on ShopMyExchange.com.

XKids interactive page includes activities, contests, Disney movies, games and more.

“The Hub continues to adapt to the ever-evolving needs of Soldiers, Airmen and military families,” said Air Force Chief Master Sgt. Kevin Osby, the Exchange’s senior enlisted adviser. “The Hub keeps everyone connected to their community while providing valuable resources to enhance their quality of life.” (Courtesy of AAFES)

Assistance fund campaign seeks your donations

We're gearing up, once again, for the annual Air Force Assistance Fund "For Airmen & Guardians, By Airmen & Guardians" campaign scheduled for March 1 to April 9.

The leadership team of the Air Force Assistance Fund charities thank you for your support last year, donating over $57,600! You make it possible for us to take care of our Airmen and their families! And it makes sense that you do: Three of the four AFAS charities' primary mission is to support retirees, their dependents, and their surviving spouses.

The General and Mrs. Curtis E. LeMay Foundation is here to support the widows and widowers of Air Force retirees, both officer and enlisted. Air Force surviving spouses in need can turn to the LeMay foundation to help retain their ability to stay in their own home with grants of assistance designed to handle unexpected expenses such as grocery and medication deliveries necessitated by the pandemic. In fact, in 2020, we provided a one-time stipend to our clients to help cover these increased costs due to the pandemic. One-time and recurring assistance is available to ensure our surviving spouses are able to stay in their own home and live with the dignity they've earned through the years of standing by their Air Force spouse.

The Air Force Villages Charitable Foundation provides financial assistance to surviving spouses of Air Force officers, who, through no fault of their own, are unable to support themselves without assistance. Health crises and unexpected longevity situations can come upon us all, bringing severe financial difficulties. While most receiving assistance are longtime residents of Blue Skies, those in the most severe financial distress can receive assistance from day one, taking advantage of this program created by Air Force Spouses' Clubs across the world 50 years ago. Thanks to your gracious donations, the Air Force Villages Charitable Foundation is here, and we are proud to "take care of our own" during their most vulnerable years.

The Air Force Aid Society has been taking care of emergency assistance, education, and community program needs for the Air Force family since 1942 -- and we're not about to stop now! Every year, the society provides over $15 million in direct support to Airmen and their families. Over the years, you've made sure that Airmen could make it home to see their Mom or Dad that "one last time" before passing on. You've enabled us to provide loans to Air Force dependents so they could continue their education. Your generosity has also provided our fellow Airmen with programs like Bundles for Babies; Give Parents a Break; Car Care Because We Care; and local education programs.

The Air Force Enlisted Village lives out its mission: "To provide a home" every day! The Air Force Enlisted Village staff follow one guiding principal, "The Mom Rule!" The Mom Rule asks three impactful questions: (1) Would I do this to my mother; (2) Would I do this for my mother; and (3) Would my mother approve? This code of conduct was especially important as COVID-19 hit the United States. We've protected our residents like we would our Mom! There are several vacancies, and no otherwise eligible widow will be turned away due to finances. Donations received through the Air Force Assistance Fund go to direct support of those widows. For more information go to our website at www.afev.us.

This year we hope that you will continue to support the AFAS campaign and make an even bigger impact. We have been supporting Airmen since there was an Air Force, so if you need us, please don't hesitate to give us a call! Thank you for your service and thank you for your continued support of the AFAS campaign: For Airmen & Guardians, By Airmen & Guardians!

Visit www.afassistancefund.org to learn more about the impact we're making in the lives of our Airmen and their families!

Memorial underway for Desert Storm, Desert Shield

WASHINGTON -- The National Desert Storm and Desert Shield Memorial is a new national monument to be built at the National Mall here. The goal is to break ground this year, the 30th anniversary of Operation Desert Storm.

The National Desert Storm and Desert Shield War Memorial Act authorizes the National Desert Storm War Memorial Association to establish a commemorative work on federal land in the District of Columbia to commemorate and honor those who, as members of the Armed Forces, served on active duty in support of Operation Desert Storm or Operation Desert Shield.

In 1990, Iraq's Saddam Hussein invaded Kuwait and within 24 hours his military occupied its southern neighbor and controlled nearly 30% of the world's oil supply. Saddam then set his eyes on Saudi Arabia. Then-President George H.W. Bush recognized Saudi Arabia's important role in the region and launched Operation Desert Shield.

As the deployment of American combat forces in Saudi Arabia grew, President Bush issued a mandate to Hussein stating that all Iraqi troops must leave Kuwait by Jan. 15, 1991. The deadline passed with Kuwait still occupied by Iraqi forces. On Jan. 17, 1991, the United States led coalition forces in the liberation of Kuwait, a campaign known as Operation Desert Storm.

Roughly 600,000 American troops were deployed in support both Operation Desert Shield and Desert Storm, nearly 400 died.

The memorial will fall within the shadow of both the Lincoln and Vietnam Veterans Memorials, abutting the National Mall. The memorial's site is at the southwest corner of Constitution Avenue and 23rd Street Northwest.

Construction of the memorial is led by the nonprofit National Desert Storm War Memorial Association. The association is led by a board of directors comprised of veterans who served during Operation Desert Storm. The memorial's estimated cost is $40 million. Current law stipulates that before groundbreaking can take place, 110% of the projected budget must be raised as required by the National Park Service.

As of 30 June 2020, the association raised $9.2 million of its $40 million goal, not including a $10 million pledge from Kuwait. The law that authorizes the memorial prohibits the use of federal funds to pay any expense to establish this commemorative work.

Beware of COVID-19 vaccine scammers

by Colleen Tressler
Federal Trade Commission

With every passing day, the news on COVID-19 vaccine distribution seems to change. One reason is that distribution varies by state and territory. And scammers, always at the ready, are taking advantage of the confusion.

Besides a big dose of patience, here are some tips to help you avoid a vaccine-related scam, no matter where you live:

- * Contact a trusted source for information. Check with state or local health departments to learn when and how to get the COVID-19 vaccine. You can also talk with your health care provider or pharmacist.

- * Don't pay to sign up for the vaccine. Anyone who asks for a payment to put you on a list, make an appointment for you, or reserve a spot in line is a scammer.

- * Ignore sales ads for the COVID-19 vaccine. You can't buy it – anywhere. The vaccine is only available at federal- and state-approved locations.

- * Watch for unexpected or unusual texts. If your health care provider or pharmacist has used text messages to contact you in the past, you might get a text from them about the vaccine. If you get a text, call your health care provider or pharmacist directly to make sure they sent the text. But scammers are texting, too. So don't click on links in text messages – especially messages you didn't expect.

- * Don't open emails, attachments, or links from people you don't know, or that come unexpectedly. You could download dangerous malware onto your computer or phone.

- * Don't share your personal, financial, or health information with people you don't know. No one from a vaccine distribution site, health care provider's office, pharmacy, or health care payer, like a private insurance company or Medicare, will call, text, or email you asking for your Social Security, credit card, or bank account number to sign you up to get the vaccine.

Stay connected to stay informed. Subscribe to consumer alerts from the FTC. When you do, you'll get updates delivered right to your email inbox.

If you know about a COVID-19 vaccine scam, let the FTC know at ReportFraud.ftc.gov, or file a complaint with your state or territory attorney general through consumerresources.org, the consumer website of the National Association of Attorneys General. Exchange shoppers support Air Force Assistance Fund

By Tom Shull
AAFES director/CEO

DALLAS -- For millions of Air Force families, the Air Force Assistance Fund has been a wingman during challenging times. Since 1973, Airmen have been taking care of their own through AFAF, and it remains a lifeline today.

In fact, AFAF's mission has never mattered more, especially during the COVID-19 pandemic.

The Army & Air Force Exchange Service is honored to support AFAF and has made it easy for shoppers to lend a helping hand. Shoppers can donate to AFAF at the register at Exchange stores and at ShopMyExchange.com.

Exchange shoppers understand selflessness and putting others first; shoppers have donated more than $1 million to AFAF since the partnership began. In 2020 alone -- a year that has tested us all -- shoppers gave more than $700,000, a nearly 770% increase versus 2019.

To all the Airmen, retirees and family members who have donated when shopping the Exchange, thank you! Your generous spirit shines for all to see.

The next time you use your benefit, please consider helping your wingmen in need. At the register, shoppers can choose to make $1, $5 or $10 donations or enter a custom amount. At ShopMyExchange.com, online shoppers can donate in $5 increments when they check out.

Having support in a time of need is huge for Warfighters and families, especially those serving at the tip of the spear. The Exchange is honored to help AFAF make the Air Force community stronger.

(Veteran for Life! Tom Shull, a former infantry company commander, served as military assistant to Robert C. McFarlane, National Security Adviser to President Reagan. Currently, he is the Army & Air Force Exchange Service's Director/CEO and has served as CEO for retail and consumer packaged goods companies.)

Celebrating 75 years:

Veterans health care impacts services, technology worldwide

WASHINGTON -- This year, the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs commemorates 75 years of the Veterans Health Administration.

Originally established in 1946 as the Department of Medicine & Surgery to care for veterans returning from World War II, VHA has evolved to meet the unique challenges and care needs of veterans from every era and at every stage of their lives.

"As we celebrate this historic milestone, we are presented with an opportunity to share VHA's rich history while looking toward our next chapter as a learning organization that is committed to continuous improvement," said former VA Secretary Robert Wilkie. "It is also a fitting occasion to recognize the extraordinary efforts of VHA staff and volunteers during the COVID-19 pandemic, which is just the latest example of VHA's long-standing commitment to providing care to veterans whenever and however they need it."

Over the past 75 years, VHA has made vast and wide-reaching contributions to improve the health of veterans and the entire nation by providing services and technologies that have changed the way health care providers across the country practice medicine:

- Almost 70% of the country's health care providers receive medical training at a VHA facility. The skills and knowledge they learn from VHA are implemented in hospitals and clinics across the country.

- VHA performed the first successful liver transplant, developed the nicotine patch and Hepatitis C medication, invented the first cardiac pacemaker, and paved the way in the field of pain management.

- VHA leads the nation in telehealth services, with over 900,000 veterans using these services in fiscal 2019, and increasing telehealth by 1,180% during the COVID-19 pandemic.

More than 60% of VA researchers also provide direct patient care. Their work has resulted in three Nobel prizes, seven Lasker awards, and numerous other national and international honors. VA currently has more than 7,000 active research projects focused on improving the lives of veterans.

To celebrate throughout this year, VA is hosting various events and campaigns to highlight VHA's commitment to putting veterans at the center of the care experience, mission-driven health care professionals, and its contributions to medical science.

Afterburner office does not maintain addresses

Please DO NOT send your U.S. Postal Service change-of-address announcements to the Afterburner office as the editor does not have the ability to make official address changes.

Mailing labels used to send out the Afterburner are based on addresses already on file with the Defense Finance and Accounting Service. Any change announcements sent to the Afterburner cannot be processed or forwarded, and are shredded.

Retirees must change their address by calling 800-321-1080. (Do not mention the Afterburner or you may be referred elsewhere.) If you have a myPay account you can make the change online. You can fax your change to 800-469-6559, or send it to: DFAS, US Military Retirement Pay, 8899 E 56th Street, Indianapolis IN 46249-1200.

Air Force Survivor Benefit Plan annuitants must call DFAS at the number above, or use their online myPay account. The fax number for annuitants is 800-982-8459 or mail the change to: DFAS, US Military Annuitant Pay, 8899 E 56th Street, Indianapolis IN 46249-1300.

Q: At what age can my spouse get an indefinite ID card?

A: Good news! The Department of Defense has lowered the age for spouses and other eligible dependents to receive indefinite ID cards from 75 to 65. When making this change, DOD officials took into consideration the continuing growth in the retiree population, and considered the burden the current age requirement places on both dependents and ID card office resources. As always, the DOD relies on the self-reporting of any change in a retirees' marital status after the age of 65 to the Defense Enrollment Eligibility Reporting System. The indefinite ID card for eligible dependents turning age 65 will be available this summer.

Q: My retiree ID card has an "INDEF" expiration date on the front, but an actual expiration date on the back. Why?

A: Blue retiree identification cards (DD Form 2) issued before December 2012 have an "INDEF" expiration date on the front, but an expiration date of the month before their 65th birthday on the back. This relates to medical benefits. Although benefits will not automatically expire, some changes will take effect based on Medicare eligibility.

You will still be enrolled in the Defense Enrollment Eligibility Reporting System, but the expiration date is a reminder that you must enroll in Medicare Part A and B to retain TRICARE for Life eligibility. You do not need to get a new ID card just because of the expiration date change.

Retiree cards issued since December 2012 have an expiration date effective the day before the retiree's 65th birthday.

Q: I do not want federal income tax withheld from my retirement pay. What did I do to make that happen?

A. The Defense Finance and Accounting Service is the agency that can assist you with retired pay matters. Retirees who wish to claim exemption from federal income tax must submit a new W-4 form every year. DFAS officials advise taking the following steps when completing the form: Fill in your name, address, and Social Security number; write "Exempt" in the space below Step 4c (titled "Other Adjustments"); and then sign and date the form. Send the completed W-4 form to:

The Air Force Retiree Services and Airman & Family Division websites are now featured sites on AF Connect, the Air Force's Total Force mobile app. On the AF Connect main page, just click on "Featured Sites" and you will find listings for Air Force Retiree Services and Airman & Family Readiness. You can still find both websites on the Air Force Personnel Center section of AF Connect by clicking on the "Family" and "AF Retirees" icons. The AF Connect app is available for both iPhones and Androids.

Department of the Air Force Retiree Activities Offices

Department of the Air Force Retiree Activities Offices are made up of retired volunteers from all services, including surviving spouses. Their charter is to coordinate, establish and staff an office on an active-duty, Reserve or Guard base through command channels that helps retirees and surviving spouses with myriad actions.

These actions include: serving as an information center for TRICARE, base services, etc.; offering referrals for financial assistance and pay matters; counseling active-duty Airmen nearing retirement; and providing guidance on retirement issues.

Another major activity involves working with base agencies to set up Retiree Appreciation Day events offering briefings by different agencies on respective services, tax preparation and advice (at selected locations); staff judge advocate assistance, base tours, Defense Finance and Accounting Service, etc.

RAOs are always seeking volunteers

Retiree Activities Offices are staffed by volunteer military retirees from all services, including spouses and surviving spouses. All offices worldwide are always seeking more volunteers.

For more information or to volunteer, contact the nearest RAO. If an installation is not listed, or is inactive, send email to afpc.retiree@us.af.mil or call 210-565-2126 for details.

How the Afterburner is delivered

People with an online myPay account automatically receive an Afterburner via email at the address on file with the Defense Finance and Accounting Service.

Others who wish to subscribe electronically need only navigate to the Department of the Air Force Retiree Services website, scroll to the lower right-hand corner, and enter their email address in the box under “Join our Mailing List.” Next, click “Submit” and a second screen will pop-up giving users an option for email service by selecting “AFTERBURNER—Retiree News Service” from the list of subscription topics.

Remember, people who do not have a myPay account or subscribe electronically will receive a hard-copy Afterburner at the mailing address on file with DFAS. (The Afterburner office does not maintain mailing addresses.)

If you have any questions, send email to afpc.retiree@us.af.mil.
